

Small steps to success... a BINGO game for illustrators

Read 1 craft-related book	Create a new self-promo postcard	Start a new illustration	Send work out for critique
Join a community of illustrators IRL or on social media/the web	Schedule 10 minutes of sketching... and do it!	Critique a fellow illustrator's work	Set up an illustration space (a "mini" studio will do!)
Send out 5 self-promo postcards (to art directors or art reps or editors)	Update your website (or create one if you don't have one)	Complete an illustration	Jot down new illustration ideas for your portfolio
Celebrate a fellow illustrator's success	Buy a new sketchbook for your ideas	Revise an illustration that isn't quite "there"	Sob over a rejection, then draw something new just for you

The rules...

1. We are playing for blackout...cover the whole board to win.
2. The prize....a critique!

And finally... join us each month on the Sub It Club Facebook support group to share your successes both large and small.
